

ACADEMIC YEAR 2026/27. 1ST SEMESTER

Name of subject: Mentoring	NEPTUN code: RTXRA1EBNF	Number of hours: lec+gs+lab 0+1+0	Credit: 0 Exam type: signature
Course coordinator: Lajos Norbert Berecz	Title: assistant lecturer	Prerequisite: none
Curriculum:
The aim of the patronage teaching system is to help first-year students integrate into university education and support them in continuing their studies successfully. Ongoing contact with students helps to solve problems that arise during their studies. The aim of the sessions and discussions is to introduce the structure of the University, the main departments, the life of the student organisations and, above all, to help students find their way around the regulations.
Detailed schedule of the course:
Week	Topics of lectures and practices/labs		Lecturer
1	(-)		(-)
2	The purpose of the patronage system, basic differences between secondary school and university studies. Information on the Disability Equality Committee (assistance to those concerned, organisation of mentors). Getting to know each other: brief introduction of the students. Visit to the university's surroundings, professional theme visits (e.g. exhibition, educational trail, labs).		Dr. habil Edit Csanák DLA
3	(-)		(-)
4	Subjects and their requirements: overview of curricula content, importance of prerequisites (specifics of online and blended courses). Presentation of the faculty (RKK) and institute websites, information accessibility and tracking. Use of Moodle system, facilitating online learning, the importance of regularity.		Dr. habil Edit Csanák DLA
5	(-)		(-)
6	Consultation opportunities. Knowledge of learning methods, the importance of meeting deadlines, and the option to repeat. Presentation of students' study and research organizations (e.g. College of Integrated Sciences), Representatives of student organisations introduce their organisations.		Dr. habil Edit Csanák DLA
7	(-)		(-)
8	Student mobility: Erasmus, IAESTE, IASEC, CC USA. - Individual research of the websites. HW 1: Study Trip Goals; HW 2: Quizlet.		Online (no contact class)
9	(-)		(-)
10	Current issues, preparation for final exams, and the importance of peer support between students. University communication: drafting and sending letters and requests. Fee payment obligations, preparation for the necessary transfers, available scholarships, applications, other funding opportunities, and invitation of a representative from the Study Office. Issues related to training, education, and getting to know senior students.		Dr. habil Edit Csanák DLA
11	(-)		(-)
12	Rector's Break		(-)
13	(-)		(-)
14	Opportunities for professional development outside the classroom (TDK, internships, project work) by inviting a member of the Library staff. The role and importance of student feedback about lecturers. How to register for exams, options. Summary of experiences and opinions. End-of-semester final meeting.		Dr. habil Edit Csanák DLA
Mid-term requirements:

ACADEMIC YEAR 2026/27. 1ST SEMESTER

Attendance at lectures and practices/labs Attendance at the meetings is compulsory.
Seminary tests, reports, essays, etc. Completion of HW 1 and HW 2 in the 8th week.
The method of obtaining a signature: Attendance at the sessions is pre-requisite for the signature, absence in compliance with the Education and Examination Regulations - TVSZ.
Professional competencies:
– Know the relationship between individual, pair and group learning and the functioning of learning communities. – Ability to participate in the management of a learning organisation in a supportive and guided way. – Ability to independently develop a self-critical plan based on the knowledge required for a career, skills and attitudes, based on the learning outcomes of the occupation. – He/she is ready to continuously seek supportive resources, to develop his/her professional responsibility and knowledge. – Ability to work on a project basis, with a collaborative approach based on the division of labour. ability to work in a collaborative environment, sees individual contributions to shared success. – Open to research-based problem solving.
Literature:
1. Education and Examination Regulations and other Regulations